INDEPENDENT REPORTER GOES ON INSECT RESEARCH JAUNT

Discovers That Hymenopterous Ichneumon Fly That Has Been Causing Consternation Among Elm Street Residents Is A Better Friend Than An Enemy—Destroys Other Insects And Does No Harm Himself.

(By ART BRYDON)

The residents of Elm St. have been caused some consternation of late by the appearance of an insect which is strange to them, on the maple trees of the neighbourhood.

Let their minds be set at ease.

The insect has been identified as the common Ichneumon fly. There are many forms of this insect in existence but this form is the true Ichneumon fly.

The fly is about one and one-half inches long with two pairs of transparent wings. On its head is a pair of orange antennae and in the thorax region there are three pairs of legs partly orange in colour. This insect is most easily distinguished, however, by three long thread-like appendages on the rear of the abdomen. These are usually from three to four inches long and the centre one, or ovipositor, is capable of piercing the hardest wood.

Although an extremely ugly little fellow, the Ichneumon fly is one of our most beneficial insects. The long ovipositor is used to lay its egg in or on the larvae of certain harmful wood-boring insects, tomato worms and other harmful creatures common to Canada. In reaching these larvae the ovipositor is often required to bore through very hard wood and other material and although it is only a thin thread-like spear it is entirely capable of these feats.

Let me therefore recommend that the citizens of Elm St. save their D.D.T. for some other more harmful inhabitant of the insect world and leave the hymenopterous Ichneumon fly alone because, believe me, that ugly little gentleman is your friend.

LIONS CLUB CARNIVAL WAS WELL PATRONIZED

Crowds thronged the Municipal Grounds on all three nights — People Enjoyed Themselves.

The last three nights of last week were nights of fun and frolic in Grimsby, when the Lions Club again staged their big carnival on the Municipal grounds, after having missed last year.

The attendance on all three nights was up to par and the people had a lot of fun playing the various games, riding the merry-go-round and farris wheel and as a result the Club will have a tidy profit to place in their coffers for the carrying on of their work for the next year.

On all three nights there were grand drawings for valuable prizes and the lucky winners got full value for their expenditure.

IT IS STRAWBERRY TIME

Todd Factory Has 175 Women Hulling The Luscious Fruit — They Earn From Five To Eight Dollars A Day — Pulp Is Stored Away For Future Processing Into Jam — The Editor Of The Independent Hulled Strawberries In This Same Factory 45 Years Ago For Five Cents An Hour — Containers Were Soldered By Hand.

(By ART BRYDON)

One of Grimsby's canning factories owned by Canadian Canners Ltd. and managed by Norman J. Todd, is now well into its second week of preparing strawberries for jam.

In the bright clean processing room about 175 women are working steadily hulling the berries, for which they receive from 5 to 8 dollars per day. As well as the women, there are about 25 young men on the staff of the factory.

To supplement the local berries there are many trucked in from the Brantford area, arriving in the late evening and all through the night.

The factory keeps only enough of the fruit on hand to keep their staff busy and any surplus which may collect is put into cold storage at once. The fruit goes at once to the processing room where it is washed and hulled by long lines of women working at slowly moving conveyor belts. The berries are placed in pans which hold about three quarts of fruit and takes to the end of the belt where they are inspected, weighed and transferred to Cooper barrels to be trucked to storage to await the jam makers.

ASKING AGAIN TO HAVE SPEED LIMIT REDUCED

Township Council Wants 30 Mile Maximum On No. 8 Highway — Auditor's Report Received.

North Grimsby Council met in special session on Friday night last when Township Auditor Stewart E. Joscelyn presented his report for 1946. The statement showed the township to be in good financial condition.

Once again the question of having the speed limit on No. 8 Highway through the township from the Saltfleet lines to Kerman Avenue and from the eastern limits of the town to Clinton township line, came to the fore. Several times in the past the council have requested the Department of Highways to reduce the speed limit on these two sections of the highway to 30 miles per hour but have never been successful in having their request granted.

The reason for the request is the thickly populated sections in which No. 8 runs through, also the fact that two schools are on this highway. A motion making the request again was sponsored by Deputy Reeve Aikens and Councillor Mitchell and passed by council.

(By THE EDITOR)

In the accompanying column, The Independent's crack kid reporter, Art Brydon, tells you all about the condition of affairs at the Todd factory on Robinson Street North.

He tells you how Norm Todd and Harry Holmes and all the rest of that very efficient factory staff are putting up strawberries. He tells you all about the modern machinery; the new rest rooms; and the method in which the berries are put away for future use.

He tells you that there are women working in that factory who are making from five to eight dollars a day. He tells you that everything is spic and span; clean and sanitary; that you could eat and enjoy a meal off the floor.

Now I am going to tell you my story.

Away back in the beautiful, but not dim, but I must admit, the distant past, I worked in that old factory, hulling strawberries, for five cents an hour. That was even before the days that the late Edward Todd, father of Norman, came to take charge of things. That was back in the days when Charlie MacCartney, father of Cliff MacCartney, was the poop-de-poof around that processing plant.

Many and many a day I stood at those old wooden tables, ready to fall down, hulling strawberries. The berries then were put in pans

BROTHER MEETS SISTERS AFTER A LONG ABSENCE

Reunion At Home Of Mr. And Mrs. Adam McGregor Brings Family Together After 31 Years.

A family reunion held last week at the home of Adam and Mrs. McGregor, 15 Adelaide Street, brought a brother and two sisters together after an absence of 28 and 31 years.

The interested parties in this get together were Horace Crittenden of Port Arthur, and Mrs. McGregor, whom he had not seen in 28 years, and another sister, Mrs. Lewis Stone, of Rochester, N.Y., who had not laid eyes on her brother in 31 years.

All the McGregor family were present to greet their uncle and aunt and join in the happy festivities.

Mr. Crittenden, who was accompanied by Wm. Herman, also of Port Arthur, is a veteran of the First Great War, having served overseas with the 162nd Battalion.

A BEAUTIFUL NEW AVENUE

There is a new street in Grimsby shrubs and flower beds with a most excellent view of the lake.

All the cottages are light and airy, with hot and cold running water, shower baths and toilets. Floors are covered with beautifully patterned linoleum, the beds are all three-quarter and double size with springs and mattresses and besides the regular bed coverings each one is provided with a Hudson Bay blanket. All cottages are lighted by electricity and provided with electric hot plates. Kitchen cabinets are built in.

Pictured above is this new avenue of cottages and to the least they are a credit to their owners and operators, Edw. and Alice Hand.

This avenue of summer cottages is situated on the Hand sand strip at the foot of Maple Avenue and no finer cottages are to be found anywhere in the Fruit Belt. All told the Lakeside Cottages, which name they go by, total 24, 18 of them along the lake front and six on top of the hill. Those on the hilltop are surrounded by a beautiful lawn,

Much money has been expended during recent years by Mr. and Mrs. Hand in building up this holiday rendezvous in the matter of cutting a channel through the sand strip for the fishing boats and pleasure craft, providing tons of heavy stone, cement and timbers along the shore line to protect the beach from erosion, as well as the construction of the cottages.

Last week Miss Betty Hand and Miss Francis Dafos opened up a refreshment booth on the beach in order to provide further service for the patrons of the cottages.

This holiday resort is one that Grimsby people can be justly proud of and it is well worth the time for citizens to pay it a visit and just see what we really have in our midst in the way of providing high class accommodation for American tourists and other holiday visitors.

ADVERSE WEATHER HAS RETARDED FRUIT CROP

Estimate Of June 15th Shows Peaches Will Not Be Better Than A 47 Per Cent Crop.

The Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Statistic Committee publishes the following summary giving the condition and prospects for fruit crops as at June 15th.

WESTERN ONTARIO

Except for some indication of frost damage to cherries in a few areas, winter injury to tree and other fruit was negligible. The long cool wet spring retarded blossoming which was nearly three weeks later than normal. During the extended bloom period of tender fruits bees were inactive, and pollination and set were generally poor in most districts. Under somewhat difficult conditions in many areas fair to good spray practices have generally been carried out.

and stem rot particularly in cherries; also peach leaf curl in Niagara, Burlington and Middlesex in many orchards. Although conditions have been conducive to apple scab development, there has been no appreciable evidence of this fungus to date. The only insect damage reported is Oyster Shell Scale in Georgian Bay and some incidence of case borer, leaf roller and bud moth in Norfolk. Rodent damage has been more severe in the Georgian Bay District than in 1946.

FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

FREEDOM of the Press

What precisely is meant by that familiar phrase, "freedom of the press"?

Fundamentally it is not a special privilege reserved for newspaper publishers. It is rather a phase of a much larger freedom—the freedom of all men to speak their minds openly and without fear. The press claims no right which should not belong to every citizen in a democracy, but freedom of the press is an all-important part of this larger freedom; because, under modern conditions, the press is the principal agency by which the ordinary man receives the information he needs to judge the actions of his rulers and make up his mind on public issues. Without newspapers, or with only gagged and blindfolded ones, he is in the dark, and helpless. An unfettered press is therefore one of the essential bulwarks of a democratic world.

If any proof be needed, it is provided by the record of the Fascist and Nazi dictatorships. Rigid control of all sources of public information, and especially of newspapers, was the corner-stone upon which those regimes were founded. Without it, they could never have held power. With it, they could do as they pleased, to the eventual ruin of their own peoples as well as much of the rest of the world.

This disastrous chapter of history should provide a warning against any attempt, by governments or by private interests, to restrict the essential freedom of the press. A free people must stand on guard not only against direct censorship, but also against more insidious encroachments. Nominal freedom is not enough. The only truly free press is one which can record the news faithfully and comment on it frankly, without fear of direct or indirect punishment. Neither the press nor the public is safe with anything less than this.

All liberty, of course, involves obligations. The obligation of a free press is to be truly free. It must be thorough, accurate and unbiased in its reporting, sincere and thoughtful in its editorials, and resistant to all outside pressure. It must be both cautious and bold—cautious until it knows all the facts, bold when it is sure of its ground. It must, above all, be inspired by devotion to the public welfare as its staff understands it.

Such a newspaper is worthy of the privileges which the English-speaking peoples have traditionally granted to their press. Such a newspaper is also the best guardian of the liberties of the people.

A MESSAGE TO ONTARIO'S PARENTS

In a message directed to Ontario parents, the Hon. George H. Doucett, Minister of Highways makes an urgent appeal for better home-instruction this summer in the safety habits of their children.

"Our schools are now closed for the summer vacation," Mr. Doucett said, "and in their scores of thousands our children will commence their long-awaited Summer Holidays. These boys and girls have been counting the hours against the time when examinations would be over, when books could be laid aside, and when they would begin happy weeks of fun and freedom, away from the grind of the classroom."

"For grown-ups and for children alike, there is no better vacation spot on earth than this great Province of Ontario. In the country our youngsters will find themselves busy about the farms, with tasks suited to their age and strength intermixed with their play. From the towns and cities children will head for camps and summer cottages throughout other thousands of children, vacation means play in back yards, in crowded playgrounds, and on the streets where traffic is a danger to young and old."

"It is a sober and a saddening thought to know that at least some of these healthy happy children will not answer the roll call when schools reopen in the Fall. Our records show, unhappily, that vacation days bring an added accident toll, with an undue increase in the number of child victims."

"At this time, I particularly appeal to parents to guide and instruct their children in safe habits, as to both walking and playing. I urge our motorists to drive with the utmost care. I ask them to slow down and to use special care in driving through built-up areas, always with the thought that a child may rush heedlessly into danger."

"Our traffic laws are the best we can devise. Recent amendments, effective on July 1st, impose new and heavy responsibilities on our motorists. We are grateful to the press, the radio, and to many organizations that are loyally supporting our campaign for highway traffic safety. But we need the help of all our people and our motorists in particular, in preventing a heavy accident toll."

"I cannot urge, too strongly, the parents, the children and our motorists, toward making the coming weeks a safe holiday season. 'Care, Courtesy and Common Sense' will save lives and ensure a happier holiday."

SOME GOOD ADVICE

Be kind to your plumbing, advises the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating. Every new sink, wash basin, or bath-tub purchased to replace a damaged fixture may deprive some prospective home owner of the facilities to complete his new home.

"With many types of plumbing equipment and supplies likely to be in short supply for some time, it is only fair that all available materials be used to complete homes now under construction," a spokesman for the Institute said. "People who abuse the plumbing fixtures and pipes already installed in their homes and require replacements are virtually robbing others of equipment to finish their homes, besides taking up valuable time of the plumbers who are needed for other work."

Here are some tips on care of plumbing systems offered by the Institute:

- (1) Close faucets gently. Excessive pressure on the top crushes the washer and may damage the seat of the faucet.
- (2) Replace worn or damaged washers promptly.
- (3) Pour scalding water down the sink drain pipes once a day and the drains can be kept clean for long periods.
- (4) Don't pour hot grease or greasy water down the drains. It may solidify in the pipes and clog them.
- (5) Avoid damaging or staining the enamel on sinks and drainboards. Don't chop ice or carve food, on plumbing fixtures, or leave garbage standing on enamelware.
- (6) Don't put refuse down the toilet.
- (7) Replace worn or damaged bumpers on the toilet seat promptly. Defective bumpers may damage the seat or break the hinges.

THE CHURCH AND CHARACTER

One of the greatest influences the Church can have on a nation is the establishment of character among its peoples. The Church teaches a person to make the most of himself. It warns people against spoiling themselves by some error of temper or self-indulgence. It teaches honesty and brotherly love, and how to live with our neighbours in harmony and peace. It instructs one how to distinguish between right and wrong. It provides the faith which enables a person to face up to sorrow and distress.

In Canada we want men and women of strong character. We cannot hope to become a great nation unless our people possess this great quality. We should support the Church and its work. If, through our humble efforts, the Church prospers and remains strong, we need not fear for the future.

HAYING IS "Hard, Sweet Work"

A clattering, rhythmic song, steady and sure, resounds now over the farmlands. It is persistent in these days that are so free with sun, so fluent with warmth. It is hay-harvest time; and, though haying means long, hard work, in the heat of the summer sun, it is good work. Dallas Lore Sharp has called it "hard, sweet work."

The farmer always prepares ahead for the day that will mark its beginning; for, once spring has come, it is only a step into meadows that are ready for harvest. He gets the mowing-machine in working order. He sharpens the knives on the cutting bars. He keeps two bars, at least; for knives dull quickly on those farms that are stony, and, with several bars on hand, replacement is quick. The delay is not long.

When the harvest begins, acre after acre of the tall green timothy falls before the racing knives. The swaths lie evenly, one after another, to cure in the sun. Associated with the harvest is a characteristic aroma that every farmer knows—the smell of new-mown hay. It is flavored with summer, flavored with the richness of the land. It is richest when the dew of evening settles down on bloom.

One of the scenes which are so much a part of summer is a field of haystacks spreading pyramid-like shadows in the sun of late afternoon. It is then that the song of the field sparrow sets to music the reflective mood of the day's end.

Lumbering wagons haul the hay to the barn, load after load. On their way to the Complaints that grocery stores now are selling patent medicines were heard by druggists at a convention in Colorado Springs. Their business is being threatened in other quarters, too. Hardware stores are selling screwdrivers, sporting goods stores tennis rackets, tobacco shop cigarettes and clothing stores raincoats. But unless restaurants begin serving meals, the druggists need not become too concerned, especially since it seems certain that the post office will not be able to encroach seriously on the stamp business.

A gentleman stopped me on the street on Friday and observed "you listen to CKTB of St. Catharines?" I replied, "yes." He said, "I presume that you hear them broadcasting that the St. Catharines Standard is the Home Paper of The Niagara District." I replied, "yes, and that is correct." Going further, I said, "If you will check your Niagara district you will find that it covers all that territory from Lake Ontario to Welland, north and south, and from the Niagara River to Beamsville, east and west. From Beamsville west to Fruitland, that is the GREAT GRIMSBY FRUIT BELT and is covered by The Independent. From Fruitland west is the Hamilton district, covered by the "Great Family Journal," the Spectator." That answered his question and he was satisfied.

barn, and on their trips back to the field again, the harvesters pause at the spring to drink, a spring that is almost hidden by the growth of marigolds. The procedure seems almost routine, almost methodical. The water is clear and cool; it is refreshing to the men and boys.

While storing the hay in the mow, piling it to the rafters of the barn, we like to think that a delightful part of the year is actually being stored within the weathered siding. The barn is literally filled with a sweetness from the meadow. And, more than that, hay which has not been browned by rain or by lying too long in the swath maintains a deep rich green that will hold through the days and months to come. Later on in the harvest, there will be other colors and other aromas. The goldenrod will bloom before the harvest ends. There will be black-eyed susans and elecampane. There may be the wild evening primrose and the wild carrot. It is the mint odor from pennyroyal that greets the harvesters then.

Yes, we are filling the barn with summer, filling it with a harvest from the meadow. Summer would not be summer without these songs and colors and odors; nor would it be summer without the sudden shower that drives men in from the fields, granting them respite from the heat, and granting them rest from this "hard, sweet work."

Then comes the song of the rain upon the roof. Crickets chirp from the mow, and the temples of horses throb as they feed from the rich new hay.—LANSING CHRISTMAN, in The Christian Science Monitor.

HOLD SPOTLIGHT

Until you are a genius or a hermit, National Health officials remind you, you can't have everything your own way. Growing children need to be taught that they aren't the only "pebbles on the beach" and can't expect to hold life's spotlight all the time. The self-centred child will grow up moody and lonely. So, health authorities endorse organized sports, as excellent schooling to develop traits of co-operation and team-play, essential to success in life.

RE-OPENING OF "EX" RECALLS OLD FAIR OF HORSE CAR TIMES

Preparations being made to re-open the Canadian National Exhibition after its long suspension, recall to some of us old-timers the Fair of days gone by when horse-cars carried visitors to and from and ferries took Island residents straight to a rickety wharf at the grounds.

A visit to "the Ex" in that era was an event looked forward to for months by the unsoothed boys and girls of yesterday who had never dreamed of the movies or visioned an automobile. It was apt to be an all-day visit under the aegis of mother and even father. A good meal could be had for from 25 to 50 cents in a dining hall where no one in that gormless age complained of the clouds of flies which settled on the food. But frequently a lunch basket was taken along, its contents to be sated out with drinks of rich Jersey milk, or ice cream purchased at the Fair.

No midway, as we have it now, existed, though a few side-shows tried to entice the unwary with razzmatazz barker. One remembers seeing signs warning folk to "Beware of Pickpockets" who plied their trade when bearded or whiskered policemen with batons in their belts were not in sight. In those days of simpler joys boys collected "business cards" or knick-knacks handed out by manufacturers with stalls on the grounds—it was a sort of primitive. Women and girls who would today frequent the art gallery were attracted by displays of crocheting and embroidery, home-does, at the Main Building. Then, as now, farmers and stock fanciers inspected livestock housed in a long row of pens close to the waterfront. Local regiments or American bands rendered music, and the York Pioneers with their log house wares the pink lemonade for sale. Luscious taffy was made before your eyes. Doughnuts cooked in your presence were sold piping hot in paper bags. Steam tractors worked threshing machine displays in the open. Mayhap you recall a huge white horse dappled with streaks of bluish green, which led about by a man, was living illustration of Morris' Mottled Soap.

Farm folks, who mostly came in by excursion trains straight to the grounds, could usually be distinguished from their slicker urban cousins. It was seemingly for the farmers' benefit that the fair ran far into September. They told a tale of a farmer's wife and family who, seeking a sequestered spot to eat their lunch, ambled toward a group of quaint buildings which proved on near approach to be the painted scenic background for The Destruction of Pompeii. Nightly, crowds sat in the grandstand to watch the red fire, hear loud explosions and to see the display of fireworks which showed the wicked city of yore meeting its fate.

There was a period when regular horse races were run at the Exhibition, and still earlier when local boys owning Shetland ponies raced their steeds out there, and members of the Wanderers Bicycle Club in tight knee pants pedaled their high-wheelers in contests.

In 1893 the writer saw Pawnee Bill's Wild West Show in front of the grandstand. There were equestrian feasts and shooting from horseback at glass balls tossed into the air. The grand finale consisted in the Deadwood stage coach, drawn by four horses, dashing madly around the track hotly pursued by mounted Indians who took pot shots at the driver and his mate, the guard, who returned fire with his trusty Winchester. The coach was of course, carrying a mythical hoard of gold dust from the diggings in the Black Hills of Dakota. Things looked black for the stage until a troop of yelling scouts and cowboys dashed up on fleet steeds and with fusillades from their six-shooters put the Indians to flight. That was a super-odyssey for the frontier was less than twenty years away and many of the participants had seen the real thing.

Some old-timers still living took their first ride in an electric street car at the Exhibition. Opened in 1884, a line ran from Strachan avenue into the grounds, and it is claimed to have been the first commercial electric railway in the world. The single car supplied with current from a local steam engine and generator ran inside a fence bourse instead of an overhead wire a charged third rail was used. A ride cost ten cents but the timorous were held back, fearing an electric shock. The car ceased to be a novelty in 1892 when the trolley came to Toronto streets.

In those days people who talked of flying machines were considered demented. Had not learned scientists written "proving" that humans would never fly? But ballooning was different and a daily balloon ascent was one of the features of Exhibition. From a central point where crowds roggled and shuddered in anticipation, a daring aeronaut in spangled tights sat a trapese hanging from a moored balloon. At a signal the gas bag shot upward, and as it soared the aeronaut did stunts on his bar and let loose showers of his cards which fluttered to earth were eagerly grabbed by the crowd.

At a height of about one thousand feet the aeronaut pulled a cord which served to deflate the gas bag and let loose the parachute with which he descended. Sometimes the wind carried him quite a distance from his starting point and if one is not mistaken he more than once came down into cold Lake Ontario where boats were waiting to rescue him.

A CHILD NEEDS A GRANDMA

A child needs a grandma to spoil him a bit, a someone with the time on her hands who will sit on an old-fashioned rocker that shivers and squeaks.

And listen to words that a little boy speaks.

Some person who knows how a gingerbread man All crusty and fragrant and warm from the pan, Can comfort a fellow who feels a bit blue When nothing just right seems to happen to you.

A child needs a grandma to teach him the words That run like a hymn in the song of the birds. A someone who knows where the orioles go When the garden is covered with inches of snow.

And only a grandma remembers to say, "Now be a good boy," as she tucks him away, snug under the covers and puts them down tight.

For little boys sometimes get scared in the night.

A child needs the comforting knowledge of love, As steady and sure as the stars up above To carry him safely through sunshine and tears.

A light in the darkness, a stay through the years.

A child needs a grandma to nod in her chair And give him her blessing by just being there.

A light summer suit, pretty for town or country and crisp as it is cool, is here shown you in snow white. The same suit is available in seven other colors, all of them interesting for hot days.

Since the cloth is one from which men's suits are made, it cleans well and is practically wrinkle resistant besides. Aside from the cloth itself, the suit is cool because of its deep armholes, its wide neckline with Byronic collar, and its open sleeves.

One of the new addition to Canadian writing circles is Kath Foster, of Sydney, Australia, who recently came to our country to live and work. Kath, who is well-known in her hometown, Sydney, for script-writing, and has had several original plays aired over Australia, took her courage and savings in hand, a few weeks ago, and travelled the approximate 10,000 miles to Toronto, Canada. She already has a writing job, hopes to gain radio-writing experience in various countries before she is through, and here's wishing her the best of luck.

I asked Kath Foster to name the first great difference she noticed between her country and ours, and she answered promptly: "Tipping." In Australia, she tells me, there isn't any tipping! That must be a very pleasant state of affairs. Kath says in her country the redcap at the station is handed sixpence for carrying a bag, but that is a station charge and not a tip for him. Waiters wait on table, hairdressers dress hair, bellhops hop around being helpful without a thought for tips because they are paid regular salaries and don't have to depend on tips for a livelihood.

Let's hope that things come to that state of affairs in Canada soon. I've talked to enough porters, manicurists, bellhops, waitresses across Canada on this subject to know that they would welcome adequate salaries which would eliminate the need for tipping. But in the meantime, tipping is part of our Canadian way of life, and we may as well face it and do the thing right.

England was the origin of the whole business of tipping, many years ago. Servants carried boxes with T.I.P. printed on them, meaning "To Insure Promptness," and a coin dropped into the box speeded up service generally.

As this is vacation time, the following tips on tipping may be helpful to you.

Travel by air, no tipping is required. Indeed, you couldn't force it on the employees, as the royal queen of another country found when flying in Canada. Impressed most favorably with the excellent service and attention she got, Her Majesty instructed her personal secretary to hand out tips in twenty and fifty-dollar bills. Albeit with tears in their eyes, the stewardess and airline employees said: "No, thank you."

The only exception to the non-tipping rule of Canadian air service is the driver of the car who runs you out from hotel or air office to airport. When you pay him (usually a dollar charge) you can also tip him ten, fifteen cents or even a quarter if you feel generous and he has been particularly helpful with information or handling your luggage.

In train travel, a trip in the daycoach requires no tipping. If occupying a chair in the parlor car, tip twenty-five cents when you get off the train. In the sleeping car, the tip differs according to the space you have. For one night in a berth and even if the porter throws in a shoeshine, tip only twenty-five cents. When a bedroom or compartment is occupied, a tip of fifty cents a night is usual; for the drawing-room or parlor, the tip should be a dollar a night, and that is tip enough even if two are occupying the drawing-room, unless the porter does a lot of useful things.

Ship travel tipping is more complicated and will be dealt with in a subsequent column; so will the subject of summer-resort tipping.

Questions—Etiquette—Answers

HEATING: Mr. M. R., of Edmonton, asks: "What is the correct seating for the party when Mr. and Mrs. 'A' invite Mr. and Mrs. 'B'" to the theatre? In what order would they enter the row to take their seats?"

ANSWER: The host goes first to hand the tickets to the usher, then steps aside to allow his wife and guests to follow the usher, while he brings up the rear. At the seats, he would suggest that Mr. "B" go first, followed by Mrs. "A", Mrs. "B" in the third seat and the host in the last seat, sitting nearest the aisle. During the intermission the two women could exchange seats, thus still sitting in the centre, but seated by their own husbands.

Readers are invited to write Claire Wallace about Etiquette problems. Address Claire Wallace, care The Grimsby Independent. Replies will appear in this column.

LIKE MOTHER USED TO MAKE?

According to the U.S. department of agriculture, the apple pie is to be better than before. Experimenters have succeeded in "firming" the tastier, but softer and more perishable varieties of apple (McIntosh and Gravenstein) for use in pie-making. The trick is a weak solution of calcium chloride, in which apples are dipped or cooked, and which makes them as firm as less flavorful varieties.

WASHBOARD WONDER

A Chicago firm advertises a new apartment-size washboard, suitable for today's confined living. It measures only 15 inches by 9½ inches and weighs nine ounces, thus presents no storage problem. Rubber-tipped and rubber-striped, it won't slip or mar porcelain. It is of particular interest to women for their personal things or for babies' fine things, because it does not rust, splinter or warp.

EATING PLEASURE

Psychological gratifications derived from pleasurable meals are as important to health as are the very vitamins and minerals essential to our diet. This means, say the experts, that eating should not be allowed to become a "chore, an ordeal, nor a race against time." The authorities on the value of food also stress the importance of clean surroundings where meals are being served, both for its pleasing effect as well as for sound hygiene.

THE MIXING BOWL
BY Anne Allan
HYDRO HOME ECONOMIST

Hello Homemakers! After collecting everything required for a picnic and after an hour in the country, people "build up" appetites as ravenous as though they had been digging in the garden all day. Whether or not this is partly a matter of imagination, the fact remains that picnickers look forward to being fed. The good homemaker remembers to bring along satisfying picnic dishes and all the requirements.

If there are cooking facilities at the picnic grounds, plan to serve a hamburger surprise . . . Holiday Hamburgers: The peppery flavor will please everyone. Fresh fruit with a cup of steamed coffee will complete the meal. However, any sunny day can be a "picnic" if you have supper on the porch, or in the backyard, or the park. Make a combination salad, butter hot tea biscuits and take covered berry tarts along with the thermos filled with chilled fruit juices.

We maintain that a simple but ample lunch eliminates fuss and bother. The items that are frequently overlooked are salt and pepper shakers; we sometimes forget to take off the caps, stick in a bit of wax paper and screw tops on tightly to prevent spilling.

SALMON SALAD

1 cup cold boiled salmon
1 cup shredded cabbage
1/2 cup diced celery
Mayonnaise, salt, pepper
Lettuce

Flake the salmon and combine with shredded cabbage and celery. Mix with mayonnaise and put in lettuce cups.

3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup chopped cooked ham
1 tbsp. finely chopped green pepper
2 tsp. minced onion
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
Toasted bread

Combine all ingredients except toasted bread and drop mixture from tablespoon on to greased frying pan and spread to make flat cakes. Brown on both sides and serve between slices of toasted or untoasted bread or rolls.

Note: 1 cup finely chopped pork luncheon meat may be substituted for the ham.

SAUSAGE SANDWICHES

Slices of bread
Liver sausages
Mayonnaise
Tomatoes (thinly sliced)
Small green onions

Toast slices of bread on one side, then spread untoasted side with liver sausages softened with a little mayonnaise. Top with thinly sliced tomatoes and green onions.

INSTANT COFFEE

Follow directions on the package of instant coffee.

BERRY TURNOVERS

Cut circles of puff or flaky paste three inches in diameter, having the paste not more than one-eighth of an inch thick. Moisten half the edge of the circle with cold water and in the center lay a teaspoon of thick raspberry jam. Fold one-half of the circle over the other, making edges meet. Press closely and mark with a fork dipped in flour. Brush with beaten egg, prick the top with a fork and chill before placing in the oven. Bake in electric oven for 15 mins. at 450 degs. F. (Other fruit may be used in the same way.)

IN HOLLAND

Mary Bothwell, who left Hickson Ont., to sing in New York concert, sang on June 22 at The Hague, Netherlands, in a Canadian concert in which Dr. Allan de Ridder, of Ottawa, conducted the Dutch Residential orchestra. "Protektor" of the concert was Canadian Ambassador Pierre Duprey. Music master was Prof. Walkerstein, conductor of Millan's La Scala.

TAKE A TIP

1. Dip graham wafers in thick chocolate syrup. Stack 4 together on individual plates and keep in electric refrigerator until serving time. Top with whipped cream tinted pink and sliced bananas.
2. Cheddar cheese will not harden if it is kept in a cloth dampened with vinegar.
3. Leftover sponge cake may be sliced and toasted on the broiling element. Top with berries folded into a syrup.
4. Use orange juice in place of water and 2 teaspoons orange rind for special pastry. This pastry is wonderful for rhubarb and berry pie.
5. With a small amount of berries on hand you can make tart shells and fill with a caramel custard into which you can fold the berries. In an emergency this dessert will be very helpful.
6. Add a teaspoon of lemon juice to simple syrup and pour on fruit instead of cream.

7. Grated cheese, coconut and rolled prepared cereals are good for topping fruit pies. This really saves time and shortening.

HANDSOME HANDBAG

By ALICE ALDEN

If you are travel-minded then your best bet for a handbag is a good big squashy affair that will open up to hold all sorts of travel impediments. With this thought in mind Williams do one of their interesting signed originals in butter smooth calf, topped with a wide, crushed strap that slides easily over the arm. This is a good bag, we think, for year-round wear for the many women who would rather have a small distinguished wardrobe of perfect clothes and accessories than a large number of indifferent things.

COLOUR BLINDNESS

Colour blindness is mentioned by modern medical science as a serious handicap in these days of speed and multiple machinery. Defective colour vision is usually hereditary, and is more common among males than females.

While little can be done in some cases, authorities say that defective colour vision is sometimes a symptom of a complaint which can be cured, and those who have difficulty in distinguishing between the primary colours are urged to consult their physicians, since their trouble may arise from correctable deficiency conditions.

Already several motorists have paid fines of $6. for non-observance of stop signs and in the next few days additional summonses will be served on motorists. Similar action is being taken in regard to traffic regulations on the Queen Elizabeth Way by provincial police.

After the reception, the couple left on a wedding trip in the West, before going to Passaic, N.J., where Sgt. Parsons will be stationed.

SWEET—POLLOCK

At St. Alban's Anglican Church, Beamserville, was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday afternoon, June 29th, when Miss Bertha Irene Pollock, of Beamserville, became the bride of Ralph Sweet, Grimsby Beach. Rev. E. F. Maunell conducted the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, Harry Pollock, the bride was gowned in white, with a net skirt and headdress of orange blossoms. She wore a long veil and carried a bouquet of pink carnations, sweet peas and orange blossoms.

Maid of honor was Mrs. C. Copeland of Beamserville, who was gowned in coral silk, leotek crepe. Four bridesmaids attended the bride, Misses Muriel McWhinney of Vineland, Miss Irene Hoverth, of St. Catharines, Misses Fula, St. Lucas, St. Catharines in pink, and Miss Betty. The bride's mother in yellow jersey, with blue accessories, and with black accessories, was yellow, was George Melville of Beamserville, a reception.

Following the 90 guests at Club Henley, St. Catharines, the bride and groom leave, following which for a honeymoon in Niagara where they will reside in employee of the groom in a room and Worsted Dominion Wool.

Mr. Balfour Groff, brother of the bride, was best man, and Mr. Edward Konkle and Mr. Alex Bennett were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 75 guests was held at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Arthur Norton, the bride being attractively decorated with roses, peonies, and orange blossoms.

Receiving, the bride's mother was gowned in printed grey crepe with large picture hat, and corsage of red roses, and the groom's mother in mauve printed jersey with corsage of mauve sweet peas.

The bride's going-away costume was ice-cream pink crepe dress, with tiers of lampshade pleats, large white picture hat, white accessories and corsage of white roses. On their return from a wedding trip to the U.S.A., they will reside in their new home on Crescent Avenue, Beamserville.

QUILTING BEE FEATURE AT THE EXHIBITION

An old fashioned quilting bee, with cash prizes and open to all women's organizations, is being arranged on the lawns at the Canadian National Exhibition from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. on Aug. 28, it is announced by Kate Aitken, Director of Women's Activities.

With quilting frames strapped to running boards and fenders every which-way and loaded with quilters, cars from a 100-mile radius of the Exhibition Grounds will converge on Toronto for this quilting event.

"Some of the husbands who will be driving the women in, have discovered that roof side-carriers are just the thing for transporting quilting frames," Mrs. Aitken mentioned.

Quilts should be brought three quarters completed before the day of the competition and if possible, completed on the lawns during the progress of the bee, it is explained. Judging will take place during the quilting marathon allowing 40% for workmanship, 40% for suitability and 20% for appearance.

After the bee, the C.N.E. will serve a picnic supper under the maples overlooking the lake to all those who participated. In the event of rain, the marathon will be held inside the Women's Building.

Quilts may be of any design, it is explained on the entry forms. They may be placed using cuttings from sewing, or made of plain material. Cash prizes will be presented for the best quilts. A consolation prize of $2 will be awarded to each organization taking part in the competition.

Prize-winning quilts will be displayed in the Women's Building during the remainder of the Exhibition. The others may be taken home the same day.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my sincere thanks for the very acceptable gift presented to me by the pupils of the Grimsby High School. Also I take this opportunity of wishing each student a pleasant vacation.

J. H. Heywood.

RIGHT LIGHT

Good lighting, as is well recognized, is essential for prevention of fatigue. Good lighting means illumination which is adequate, uniform and steady. Glare and shadows should be avoided, particularly when at close work, such as reading. Health authorities point out that the source of light should never be directly in the line of vision.

LARGER SUGAR RATION

Sugar rationing will continue in Canada until the 1948 supply prospects are clear, but three or four additional pounds on the individual ration will be made available during August and November of this year. This was announced by Finance Minister Douglas C. Abbott in the House of Commons on June 26.

Two additional coupons will be declared valid in August and one or two late in November. At the same time the industrial ration will be advanced by 10 points in each industrial category. This will give industries using sugar 90 percent of their 1941 usage. The additional 10 per cent will be a supplementary quota during the latter half of July.

NEW TENNIS COURTS AND BOWLING GREENS

A visit to the rear of Johnson's Hardware, or more specifically, the old Grimsby Lawn Bowling greens will show you that two of the finest tennis courts in the Fruit Belt are again open for play. A telephone call to Mr. Johnson will get you all the information necessary as to hours of play, costs, etc.

The tennis courts are on what was known as the lower bowling greens. The upper bowling greens that were allowed to go to seed, so to speak, have been plowed under, leveled off and replanted under the supervision of Edward Downs, and while they will not be available for use this season, will be in grand shape next spring for use of the devotees of lawn bowling.

At the present time there are no electric lights on the tennis courts for after dark play, but there will be next season when the new bowling green is opened for use.

SMITHVILLE TOSERS
TAKE THE LEGION BOYS

The Grimsby Legion Fastball team went down to defeat on Monday night before the boys from Smithville. The game was tight from the first to the fourth inning when the visitors loaded the bases and Pennel, Pegg and Book scored to break up the game. In the fifth Pennel and Lymburner circled the diamond to make the score 3 to 0. The Grimsby tallies were by "Red" Mason in the seventh and Francis Craig in the ninth. Final score 5 to 2.

Early in the game Gord Buchan injured himself in a fall back of first base in a successful attempt to get on. In the fifth inning he was taken from the game and sent to the doctor. Catcher Smith of Grimsby took over the mound chores and the team backed him to a man. Although the loss of Buchan was felt keenly Smith is deserving of a great deal of credit for a fine pitching display on very short notice (about 40 seconds).

The other two outstanding players on the home team were in our opinion, Craig and Holder, while Pennel on the mound for the visitors was tops.

Batteries — Grimsby: Buchan, Smith and Schwab (good old "Doc"); Smithville: Pennel and Book.

The horse and buggy era was slow but at least the buggy workers never went out on strike.

STRAWBERRY TIME
An important part in all this is played by the checkers who spend their time supervising the women at their work-and-punching-their-place-work cards. These women correspond to foremen.

A new convenience has recently been added to the factory in the form of a new lunch room. Although not yet complete, the new room promises to be a welcome addition for those of the employees who carry their lunch to work every day. The room is tastefully decorated in ivory on the walls and ceiling and maroon on the lower walls. The floor is of good sturdy pine. There are two sets of lockers in the room, one set for the use of the employees for their lunches and one for the use of the checkers. Also to be installed is a new coat rack. When the room is complete it will contain facilities for providing its 150 person capacity with hot drinks of all kinds.

Adjoining the lunch room is a small annex which will be used as a nurse's room. Here a R.N. will have complete equipment for the treatment of any slight accidents or minor ailments which may occur among the workers. This room is well lighted with new dome lights and is quiet and restful from the noise of the factory.

All in all, Mr. "J" is to be congratulated on providing first class working conditions for his employees. The factory is well ventilated and is clean, bright and airy, with all the modern necessities provided for the comfort of the employees. Here is an industry of which Grimsby can be truly proud.

and carried down the line, no conveyor belts, and placed in cans by women, by hand, and passed on to the "Cappers" who put the lids on and soldered them by hand with his stick of solder and his hand iron that he kept hot by sticking in the hot charcoal coals in the little burner that sat in front of him. Much the same kind of an outfit that a tinsmith carries around with him today. A good "capper" in those days was paid around $2 to $2.50 a day, for 10 hours, and was considered a "wealthy" man. Today that "capping" is all done by machinery and Lorne Todd walks around all dressed up, as if he were going to the races, just looking at the giant machines percolating. But there are times when Lorne is stripped to the waist, working 24 hours at a stretch, to make them again function properly. Incidentally Lorne is not working for $2.50 a day either.

In those days we just threw the hulls on the floor. By the time night came you thought you were wading through the jungle. There were no factory inspectors, sanitary inspectors or Dr. Mathers checking a person fore and aft in those days.

I doubt very much if the strawberries of today, that the can-opening cook of the big cities assimilate, taste any better than the berries of 40 years ago tasted.

Hugh Campbell, first President of the Lions, working his head off and beaming like a full moon. Hugh is never happier than when he is trying to do something for somebody else.

A Tiger behind bars, Herbie Jarvis locked in the Merry-Go-Round ticket booth. Never was as unhappy in his life. They had the shackles on him this time.

Ma says: "The next time that 'Sandy' Globe puts that Ferris Wheel in my kitchen, I'm going to tell him something." It will be there next year, Ma.

"Old Sandy" right in his glory. Brother, when you want something done, and done right, send for the old maestro.

What a whale of a time the kids had. Well, that is what the carnival was for, the kids.

Town Clerk Geoffrey G. Bourne thought he was back in Jarvis again with the old horse-power merry-go-round on the fair grounds.

Don Marshall, with the assistance of The Independent's crack reporter, Art Brydon, trying to keep the ticket record straight.

I hope we hear big things from the Lions in the coming year.

Next big do is the Firemen's Carnival and then Father O'Donnell's Garden Party. A lot of fun and excitement in the offing.

I think it would be cheaper if I bought a merry-go-round and planted it on a certain lawn on Livingston avenue.

LOCAL GAS

pany, he explained, does not buy gas from the company whose supply is running low but is operating some 80 wells of its own in the townships of Caistor, Gainsborough and Canborough, and is drilling more all the time. "We have a good supply," he said, "and do not anticipate any immediate shortage."

Hamilton, Burlington and other small centres surrounding Hamilton will be affected by the shortage as will be St. Catharines, and other towns and villages to the east and south.

During the war these places suffered from a gas shortage, which at that time was placed as being caused by the tremendous amount of gas being used by the munition manufacturing plants. While factory consumption of natural gas is still very large today, as is domestic consumption, the supply has not increased but rather has decreased.

Apples—Based on initial set and prior to June "drop," the first preliminary crop estimates indicate an increase of approximately 30% over 1946 production, or a total estimated crop of 570,000 barrels. Varying increases are reported from all districts, the greatest being in Middlesex-Huron, Niagara, Elgin-Oxford and Norfolk. Merton, Baldwin and Spy show the heaviest varietal increases, with Stark and Early varieties the same as last year. Trees generally are in excellent condition, with foliage and development good. Bloom and initial set appeared heavy in all areas, with exception of Snow in Peel-York. In most early sections apples up to and including Molton are now in the little apple stage. In later areas Calyx Spray has been applied.

Pears—Despite excessive heavy bloom, the initial set has been most disappointing and preliminary estimate is placed at 203,710 bushels, or a decrease of 22% from 1946. Kieffer indicate a decrease of 25%, Bartlett 18%, and Other Varieties 3%. Varying increases are reported from districts with poor crops last year which are more than offset, however, by comparatively heavy decreases in the main-producing districts of Niagara and Burlington. Pear orchards are in good healthy condition, with freedom to date from insect or disease damage.

Plums—The first estimate of 152,120 bushels is 40% less than in 1946, these prospects being due to poor set in the Niagara and Burlington districts following very heavy bloom. Practically all other districts show increases over or are the same as last year. By varietal classes, overall decreases are as follows: Japanese 60%, European 48%, Prunes 49%.

Condition of orchards and general development is good except for some blighted trees in the Georgian Bay area; and there is general freedom from insect or disease damage.

Peaches—With decreased crop prospects in evidence in all areas except Essex and Brant, the preliminary estimate for 1947 is now placed at approximately 792,000 bushels as compared with 1,475,000 bushels in 1946, or a decrease of about 47%. Based on first blossom show and tree conditions, indications were for a fair crop, but adverse weather caused poor set and considerable leaf curl, particularly

GLOWING TRIBUTE TO JEROME KERN MEMORY

Glowing tribute to the memory of the late Jerome Kern is offered on the Roxy screen in "Till the Clouds Roll By," M-G-M's star-studded Technicolor musical drama based on incidents in the famed composer's life and career.

But around Kern's touching friendship with his musical arranger, Herman Haeberle, and the latter's staff-struck daughter, Sally, the story traces the composer's arrival in New York full of hope and ambition, follows his rise to fame both here and abroad, accented the romantic meeting in England with the girl he eventually married, and ends on a dramatic note when Sally, embittered by a quarrel over her career, proves her talent as a singer and is reconciled to Kern whom she had always regarded as a foster-parent.

The role of Kern is brought to life with sympathy and warmth by Robert Walker in one of his finest portrayals to date. Van Heflin is splendid as the loyal and encouraging Haeberle, and Lucille Bremer gives verve and spirit to the part of Sally. The girl with whom the composer falls in love after he "borrows" her piano, is delightfully played by Dorothy Patrick.

Punctuating the narrative are song-and-dance filled sequences from some of Kern's greatest successes and it is these that the picture's dazzling array of headliners are given an opportunity to offer a feast of talent.

There are so many high spots in the musical interludes that it is difficult to pick and choose but among the memorable moments are Judy Garland, in the role of the sweet, musical-comedy star, Marilyn Miller, singing "Who," "Sunny" and "Look for the Silver Lining"; June Allyson and Ray McDonald singing and dancing in the rain to "Till the Clouds Roll By"; Lucille Bremer and the popular Van Johnson dancing to the provocative "I Won't Dance" and Miss Bremer's version of "Land Where the Good Songs Go"; still another dancing team, composed of Cyd Charisse and Gower Champion, doing "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes"; Kathryn Grayson singing "Long Ago and Far Away," and joining Tony Martin for the wonderful song "Make Believe," and Diana Shore's rendition of "They Didn't Believe Me" and "The Last Time I Saw Paris."

ONE CORN COB PIPE TO MISSOURI FARMER

The Missouri corn cob pipe is as indigenous to America—and as persistent—as the Missouri mule. It was invented, perfected and manufactured on the banks of the Missouri River.

Before 1860 the corn cob was used as fuel, as a missile, as a brush to rub down a horse, or as a stopper for a jug. But one day, in pensive mood, a Missouri farmer sat and contemplated the cob which he held in his hand. He observed that it was long, tapered, rounded at the bigger end and pointed at the smaller. Its white surface was marked by corrugations which looked rough but yielded under fire pressure. When he took the cob in both hands and broke it, it snapped square off, showing its circle of hard woody substance about the central core of soft white pith.

Perhaps that day the farmer had left his pipe behind (writes Stanley Vestal in The Southwest Review). At any rate, it occurred to him, since he was a smoker, that by poking out the pith, boring a hole near the big end of the cob and inserting a stem, he could easily make a cheap and serviceable pipe. He did his trading in the tranquil town of Washington on the south bank of the Missouri River. The next time he went to town he strolled up the quiet street to the nearest woodworking shop. The proprietor was Henry Tibbe recently arrived from Holland.

In the shop the farmer persuaded Tibbe to fit his rough piece of cob to the lathe and lay his chisel on it. Tibbe smoothed away the corrugations and then bored out the pith and drilled a hole. To this he fitted a reed stem and handed it back to the farmer.

The farmer thumbed tobacco into the bowl, struck a match and got his home-made pipe going. Then, in return for Tibbe's trouble, the farmer le Dutchman have a few puffs on the pipe he had made. After the farmer left Tibbe began to wish he had a cob pipe of his own, taking the other half of the cob which the farmer had brought, he went to work and was soon puffing away.

The second pipe was an improved model. A Hollander naturally associates pipes with the fine white clay-like mineral from which meerschaum pipes are made in the old country. It inevitably occurred to Tibbe to wish he had a cob pipe of his own, taking the other half of the cob which the farmer had brought, he went to work and was soon puffing away.

This is one instance of how Canada's 3,200 branch banks play their part in the daily life and work of Canadians.

A MATURE MIND

Psychologists point out that the peace of the world depends on the judgment and influence of mature minds. But what is a "mature" person? Two American psychologists, Drs. Edward Strecker and Kenneth Appel offered this definition: "Maturity is the capacity to give more than is asked or required in a given situation. It is the ability to persevere to carry out a purpose in face of difficulties; ability to make one's own decisions; ability to struggle through until a job is finished; ability to endure hardship, frustration, discomfort to get the task accomplished; the capacity to co-operate, to work with others, to work in an organization and under authority to achieve the desired result. Above all a mature person can show tolerance and has the qualities of adaptability and compromise." How many people can pass this test with high grades?

GRIMSBY TONIGHT

discussion about Grimsby and district.

Mr Bill Weir, general manager of CKTB will join in the discussion by asking questions and Mr. Coombes, of the Niagara District Historical Society, will be the expert on historical questions that the group cannot answer.

This program is directed at the American and distant Ontario listeners who may be interested in the Niagara District, but Grimsby people who listen in may hear something they don't already know and it should prove of general interest to all.

So dial CKTB, 1550 on your dial, tonight at 8:30.

TOWN COUNCIL

Airey was here the other night and talked to you. You cannot pass that motion until all the questions he asked are taken up here and discussed. We should only do that with a full council. We brought the Inspector in to ask for information. We got it. Now this fiction asks that we request the Provincial Police to police the Town of Grimsby, and this with town Councilmen absent. What is in store?

Mr. the police situation of past lined. He wanted to know more years and what the cost was info to be. He believed the question to be definitely settled, should be done by nine men. That not been should be settled by the question. He drew attention of citizens that there would be an election in—"You heard Inspector

Boyd that you had a very good officer in this town and he highly regard for him."

Bonham made a straight shoulder speech in which Moutlined all the things that had from red, pro and con, during the out of council regarding the police force. He mentioned the fact that Airey told them that ice forces certain duties that the Inspectors force were doing there. The Provincial Police would present. He named a number of that the ice, which if not done by not do. Provincial Police would mean these duties, extra men to do the the Provincial Pol.

the hiring of extra other members.

Bonham—"Let the other whole body of council sit here; y' Reeves public sit here and hear thon." His question arose. I ask Deputy w his Price to withdraw his motion.

Mr. Price agreed to withdraw his motion and stated, "I still believe that the Provincial system is the best system for this town."

Bonham—"This question is going to be dealt with openly, and I want the press to hear this. In the first place we can do nothing without passing a bylaw. If there is I will take the matter to the courts. Things are going to be done openly. You must answer the questions on that questionnaire."

Price—"We must first make an application and forward it to Provincial Police with the completed questionnaire."

Bonham—"The people of this town are entitled to the facts and they are going to get them."

Hewitt—"Let's draw a bylaw and have the people vote on it."

Bonham—"I am with you one hundred per cent."

Clerk Bourne—"As this motion stands it is out of order."

Inglehart—"I do not think we should change our police in the middle of the year. I see no reason for the rush. Give the matter some publicity, let the people have all the facts."

Johnson—"I think we should let the people decide this question, though personally believe the Provincial system is the best."

Bonham—"Under Provincial Police system it will cost the people of this town over $6,000 a year. If the people vote for it I am satisfied."

In answer to a question, Mayor Bull stated that "the minimum salary of a Provincial Police officer is $1,750, plus car mileage of six cents a mile, and all office expense. In 1946 police wages totalled $2,800. First six months of this year wages totalled $1,718."

Bonham—"You will find that the Provincial Police are paying higher than the minimum in other places, and there will be a raise all across the board at the first of the year."

Bonham—"If the members of this council as a whole and the citizens generally had supported and given their co-operation to their police force in the past three years that they should have, then none of this police discussion would have ever taken place."

At this juncture the following motion was passed unanimously:

Hewitt-Johnson—"That this council instruct the Clerk to have our solicitor draw up a by-law to the effect to have a by-law that the people vote on wanting the Ontario Provincial Police, or not, police the Town of Grimsby at the annual election."

Councillor Bonham told council it was expected to have the new telephone and light flasher system for the police force in operation within a short time.

Mayor Bull suggested to council that he would like to see a Book of Remembrance to all the service men and women of Grimsby and North Grimsby prepared and deposited in one of the local churches.

A page for each person containing all the information about that person and particularly about the men who had made the supreme sacrifice. He understood that there were in existence three different lists of the local service personnel but none of them complete. A book containing all the names of the men of the First World War is now in the council archives. Council forgot about the suggestion in the heated debate that followed over police matters.

The following motion by Deputy Reeve Price and Reeve Hewitt was carried unanimously: "That an application be made to the Postmaster General's Department as to the possibility of having the mail delivered within the borders of the Corporation of the Town of Grimsby."

Councillor Chivers was absent through illness and Councillor Altom was absent on account of being on holidays. Councillor Inglehart was half an hour late in taking his seat.
